"I was told not to come here," said Johnson, "I was told I was not before the public. I replied that I was a man fighting against the world. I'll be surrounded by thirty-five or forty thousand people on July 4th, and some will holler 'good' and some will holler 'bad' but the most will holler 'bad,' and the more they holler 'bad,' the braver I'll be. That's Jack Johnson's motto. That's what this man Wright is going to do in local politics, lick 'em. You can put it down that Johnson and Wright will win.

BEVERIDGE ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senator Defends the Measure as Reported to the Senate.

Washington, D. C. March 29.—Defending the senate bill for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states, senator Beveridge, of the committee on territories, vigorously urged adoption of the changes suggested from the house bill.

The chief differences, he outlined as follows:

The senate bill would refuse to recognize the Arizona law, which would disfranchise those citizens who are unable to interpret the constitution in English.

Separate elections will be required by the senate bill for the adoption of the constitution of the proposed new states and the selection of state officers.

The senate bill requires also that the constitution must be approved by the president and congress.

Provision is made by the senate measure for payment of only such territorial bonds as have been validated by congress, while the house bill would provide for the payment of all outstanding bonds.

Restrictions would be thrown about public lands, and the saline lands of New Mexico would be withdrawn to the government by the senate measure.

The schools would have to be conducted entirely in English under the senate bill, while the house measure would permit the teaching of Spanish.
